

Irish waters are home to many delicate cold-water coral reefs. the deepest coral reef was recorded off the continental shelf by Irish scientists at an incredible

1,600m

