

the ocean is Ireland's greatest energy resource. the potential energy available to us from offshore wind, waves and tides far exceeds our current electricity requirements