

it snows in the ocean!

marine snow is made up of organic material such as dead animals and plants that fall to the bottom of the ocean. it's a food source for many deep sea creatures